Comments:

Members of our Societies committee have read a report dated 24.4.2024 to the

The scope of the development has to be sufficiently well defined before an informed decision can be made. we need a proper report and impact assessment.

5.2

The Reserves Act is approaching 50 years since its royal ascent. It is generally conservative, with most decisions requiring public notice., While there is no statutory requirement to undertake public notice under the Act, staff consider it would be appropriate to seek community input in the lease, factoring the change in use (Scouts used the building occasionally after school hours, while a kindergarten would operate up to multiple days a week during the day.)

& 13 Climate Change Considerations

13.1 Given this is a similar use, there are no obvious climate change considerations.

Our committee comment

These two statements are contradictory. Uses are NOT similar. With increased usage, human impacts, car access etc, there are climate change implications.

These are just some points of our committee concerns.
